The health benefits of curcumin, the active compound from the Indian spice known as turmeric, have been well documented. However, plain curcumin is also difficult for the body to absorb. The bioavailable curcumin in CuraPro is enhanced with other ingredients to ensure better absorption.

Curcumin PLUS

CuraPro delivers beneficial ar-turmerone-containing turmeric essential oil (for enhanced bioavailability), PLUS 250 mg of full spectrum curcumin (curcumin, demethoxycurcumin and bisdemethoxycurcumin) in just one softgel (375 mg). Other curcumin formulas increase absorption with ingredients such as cellulose that provide no additional benefits for health, or use ingredients that health-conscious consumers want to avoid.

In fact, CuraPro is better absorbed than plain curcumin, and has a sustained blood retention time at significant and beneficial levels in the bloodstream.

This high-potency formula features clinically studied curcumin, and yields a minimum of 250 mg of curcuminoids per softgel.

When results matter, choose CuraPro over turmeric powder. Turmeric powder contains as little as 2% of valuable curcumin. Considering the high curcumin content in CuraPro plus its enhanced absorption means you would have to take up to 500 capsules of turmeric to equal one CuraPro!^

Frequently Asked Questions for CuraPro®:

Q: How does the curcumin in CuraPro compare to turmeric products?

A. CuraPro is up to 500 times more powerful than turmeric.^

The most active compound in turmeric, and the one associated with most of its health benefits, is curcumin. However, turmeric contains as little as 2% curcumin, meaning many grams of turmeric (equivalent to hundreds of capsules) need to be taken to equal the amount of curcumin in one CuraPro. CuraPro starts with pure curcumin, which is then blended with turmeric essential oil (which contains beneficial compounds called turmerones that are health supportive as well) to increase its absorption.

So not only does CuraPro contain more curcumin in a single softgel than any turmeric product and almost every other enhanced bioavailable curcumin, it is significantly better absorbed than plain curcumin and its health benefits have been proven in over 70 published studies.

Q: How is CuraPro different than Curaphen®? Can we take them both together?

A. CuraPro provides clinically studied, enhanced bioavailable curcumin and is our highest potency, all-curcumin product. Curaphen provides that same curcumin along with uniquely standardized boswellia, DL-phenylalanine (DLPA), and nattokinase as a combination for occasional muscle pain due to exercise or overuse.* It is perfectly fine to use them together, according to your individual preferences.

What to pair with CuraPro®:

- Clinical Glutathione™ – Provides patented, reduced oral glutathione for vital support.*
- EurOmega-3® – Provides bioidentical omega-3 exclusively from salmon with DHA/EPA in a biologically active, phospholipid form, ensuring absorption and improved stability.

^ Based on enhanced absorption of CuraPro® curcumin versus equivalent weight capsule of unstandardized turmeric containing 2% curcumin.
