Frequently Asked Questions for Prostate & PSA Support*

Q. Why is omega-5 fatty acid important?

A. Omega-5 (punicic acid) supports healthy hormone balance and is actually a rarity in the natural world. Pomegranates are one of the only known plant sources of this valuable nutrient. Clinical studies with punicic acid from pomegranate (the source of omega-5) show it supports the intricate hormonal balance that can make a critical difference in prostate health.*†

Q. Why isn't saw palmetto in this formula?

A. While saw palmetto is one choice for prostate support, there is strong research that supports the use of the combination of cell-supporting ingredients that can only be found in Prostate & PSA Support. If you already use a saw palmetto supplement, Prostate & PSA Support can be added to your regimen for even greater benefits.*
