CuraPro® 375 mg Curcumin

Complex: Smaller softgels, supplying 250 mg of pure curcuminoids per dose.

The Power Behind CuraPro® and Curaphen®: BCM-95® Curcumin.

Why is BCM-95 the most clinically studied, enhanced absorption curcumin in the world? Because it delivers this compound from turmeric in an entirely unique and beneficial way.

And that has everything to do with its synergy with turmeric essential oil.

Turmeric essential oil, containing ar-turmerone, is critical in helping curcumin absorb better and stay in the bloodstream longer so that it can support the many aspects of optimal health. Plus, turmeric essential oil with ar-turmerone provides its own systemic benefits, too.*

If your patients have been hard pressed to realize benefits from turmeric and standard curcumin supplements in the past, it's because there are many challenges with those forms:

- Turmeric delivers only 2 to 5 percent curcumin in each dose
- Standard curcumin extracts—even those standardized at 95 percent—are poorly absorbed
- Standard curcumin typically has a short blood retention time, which limits its impact
- Adding black pepper extract (piperine) to increase absorption significantly increases the risk of adverse interactions with commonly prescribed medications

Instead, BCM-95 successfully increases absorption by 700 percent compared to standard extracts. That means a critical difference for your patients. And ultimately, BCM-95 curcumin is the preferred choice for researchers and patients around the world for one simple reason: it works.

Premier Products with Clinically Studied BCM-95® Curcumin

While turmeric and curcumin have become incredibly popular among patients and practitioners, there are key differences between products when it comes to absorption, effectiveness, and proven research. Our CuraPro® and Curaphen® products feature BCM-95 curcumin, the most clinically studied, enhanced absorption curcumin in the world.

The Most Clinically Studied, Enhanced Absorption Curcumin in the World. Real Studies, Amazing Results.

Our BCM-95® curcumin has over 85 published studies to its credit, over 40 of which are human clinical trials. These trials have illustrated the tremendous benefits of our curcumin, and this is just an overview of clinical study results:

PAIN RELIEF: A clinical study found that BCM-95 curcumin combined with BOS-10® boswellia supported pain relief by 64 percent in those taking the herbal ingredients versus 29 percent using a conventional intervention. That's an incredible difference—and one that many of your patients would appreciate—especially those looking for a safe option for their occasional pain.**

JOINT HEALTH: BCM-95 curcumin alone and combined with BOS-10 boswellia supports mobility, comfort, and walking distance without serious side effects in multiple clinical studies.*

MOOD: Curcumin is capable of supporting many aspects of healthy mood, including levels of brain neurotransmitters that modulate behavior, appetite, emotions, and memory. One clinical study with BCM-95 found that those taking curcumin reported significantly improved mood, as demonstrated on a standard rating scale measurement.*

COGNITIVE HEALTH: In clinical research, groups receiving BCM-95 curcumin saw significant support in antioxidant status and healthy beta amyloid levels.**

HEALTHY CELLULAR DEVELOPMENT: In a clinical study, researchers reported “remarkable support after only the first 15 days of use.” Compared to placebo, all but one participant in the curcumin group noted significant cellular support. In cases of prostate health, another clinical study found that men saw noted support in urinary function by 50 percent and support of other aspects of daily life by 40 percent compared to the placebo group.*
